Museum Shop's Featured Artist

Laurie and Lisa Designs

As little girls growing up in New York, sisters Lisa Peterson and Laurie Wetterschneider got their creative start stringing Fruit Loops and elbow macaroni into bracelets and necklaces. Lisa became an attorney in New York, and after graduating from the University of Arizona, Laurie remained in Tucson, owning and operating radio stations for many years until shifting gears into fundraising. Today, in addition to being the featured artists for March in the shop, Laurie and Lisa's bold and unique jewelry is sold at Boutiques not only in Tucson but throughout the United States.
